dedicated to "papa" jim

Our photographer

Mr. Jim Pruitt, known to all Mississippi State College students as "Papa" Jim, of Pruitt Studios in Starkville, has been associated with the REVEILLE for a great number of years. As a matter of fact, "Papa" Jim has been the Staff Photographer for twenty-four of the forty-six volumes of the REVEILLE which have been published here at State.

Because of this; because of his willingness to aid the REVEILLE Staff, in the capacity of photographer, party planning, or on editorial problems; because of his ability to acquire the friendship of everyone with whom he is associated; because he and his efficient staff of workers do all within their power to please the REVEILLE Staff; and because of his like for people, generally . . . we humbly dedicate the 1951 REVEILLE to "Papa" Jim.

"Papa" Jim delivers the pictures for the forty-sixth volume of The REVEILLE.

In Recognition of

THE HONORABLE FIELDING L. WRIGHT

. . . under whose administration and with whose help the Institutions of Higher Learning in the State of Mississippi, and of Mississippi State College, particularly, have advanced with unprecedented speed, raising our State to new heights in the field of administering to the ever increasing need and desire for knowledge.

the president

Your approaching graduation is an important event for you and for Mississippi State College. By meeting the requirements for a degree, you enter into the great tradition of service to State and Nation, which has been created by the graduates who have preceded you from the halls of this institution. Henceforth you cannot escape the honor of representing Mississippi State College wherever you go and in whatever you may do. And Mississippi State College could not, if it desired, eliminate you from its roster or write you off as its product.

We trust that your stay on this campus has been pleasant and stimulating. There may have been times when, because of disappointments, you were impatient and yearned for the day of graduation which is now upon you. That frame of mind can easily be understood by one who went the selfsame way that you have gone. But we trust that during the remainder of your lives you can look back upon your college days with a great deal of satisfaction and pride.

It is usually true that we must remove ourselves from an experience before we can properly evaluate it. That being true, it is my wish that in reflecting upon your college career ten or twenty years from now, you can truthfully say that your Alma Mater was true to you. If you can do this, we shall have fulfilled our obligations to you.

It is needless for me to remind you of the gravity of your responsibilities as citizens of the greatest Nation on earth. I do wish to emphasize, however, that this Nation was never in greater need of farseeing and courageous citizens than it is at this time. New problems of immense proportions loom up in every direction. Faint-hearted people fear them and run from them. Courageous people recognize their presence and meet them squarely, refusing to yield to any forces except righteousness and justice.

Mississippi State graduates have always proven their usefulness and their courage in times of peace and in times of war. We are confident that each member of the Class of 1951 will measure up to these high traditions regardless of the role that fate may design for you.

It has been stimulating to know you during your student days, and we anticipate with pleasure our associations as alumni in the years ahead.

DEAN R. C. WEEMS
Dean of the School of Business

The School of Business and Industry, one of the oldest in the South, was established in 1915, and now offers, among others, studies in accounting, business administration, institutional management, commercial aviation, industrial management, banking merchandising, production management, secretarial science, public administration, economics, and journalistic administration.

Business Education Building

DEAN HAROLD FLINSCH
Dean of the School of Engineering

Though not actually the home of the Engineering School, the Patterson Engineering Laboratories is one of the new buildings put into use, for the first time, this year, and it will long be remembered by those upperclassmen who first attended "labs" there after leaving the Engineering Building.

The Patterson annex was named to honor L. L. Patterson, Dean Emeritus of the School of Engineering.

The Patterson Engineering Laboratories

school of science

Established in 1911, the School of Science has broadened its educational program to include proper balance in the fields of bacteriology, botany, zoology, entomology, chemistry, geology, modern languages, physics, and English.

Dean of the School of Science

The Biology Building

DEAN B. P. BROOKS

Dean of the School of Education

Since the establishment of the School of Education in 1935, people have become more conscious of the need for extensive teaching service and for more educated teachers. Special emphasis is given to the social and economic needs of Mississippi under the curriculum of this school.

Housed jointly in Lee Hall, the administrative building, and the Business and Education Building, Education students climb to the top floors of each building daily in search of that knowledge with which they equip themselves against the problems which are encountered throughout life.

DEAN HERBERT DRENNON
Dean of the Graduate School

Though not actually the office building nor classroom building of the graduate school, the New Library plays a major part in the life of the graduate student, for it is there that many unforgettable hours are spent in research and study for the thesis.

student government

In order to bind all students in a stronger union and develop a keener sense of school spirit, in order to promote closer relations between faculty and students, and in order to build a greater Mississippi State—there exists the Student Association.

This association annually elects a President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer to the Student Council. They comprise the Executive Committee. Each School elects, according to its constitution, representatives to the Council who are vested with the powers to vote on all problems in the interest of their respective schools. Other members of the Council are the editor of the Reflector and the editor of the REVEILLE.

The Vice-President is also charged as Chairman of the Dance and Entertainment Committee.

The collegians . . .

State's Own Dance Band

The Collegians, under the direction and managership of "Wicky" Sparks, have acquired quite a good name for themselves throughout the state. Besides playing for the majority of the dances at State, they have made a Christmas Tour (playing six engagements), are featured occasionally on the Sun day afternoon radio program originating at State,and have cut a considerable amount of wax and tape . . . All very good.

These boys, though students in varied fields of study, collect at the drop of a flat (note) to "run over" any late hit-tune.

"Wicky" does the arranging for the band.

". . . and have editorials the students won't like."

Shortly after Christmas, following a trend for that month, Managing Editor Lamar Pace joined the Navy; Van Bristow joined the Marine Corps, because, as Van put it, "Somebody's got to be a hero in this fracas;" and the new Sports Editor Terry Swalm received his notification of recall to active duty with the Navy.

In the resulting reshuffling of the staff, Guy Chittom was moved up to the position of Managing Editor, Billy Robbins moved from the News desk to take over the Sports Editor's job, and Van's younger brother, Jerry, took over cartooning duties. Swalm remained as columnist until he went to the Navy.

Sound off

The Cadet Band is composed of students who are enrolled in military and have the ability to toot an instrument of some description. The band performs at all parades and reviews of the State College Regiment, and wherever needed for a military purpose. Capt. William A. Gresham is the director of this band and he has developed a splendid unit which renders much service to the school. The officers of the band are chosen from advanced military students. This year Joe Bristow was the first sergeant.

. . . those 67 points"

In the opening day game on Scott Field, the Mississippi State Maroons swamped Arkansas State 67-0. The game was highlighted by the fine deception of "Twig" Branch and a 72 yard punt return by Norman Duplain. Sharing in the scoring were Bill Stewart, Pete Polovina, Tom Rushing, Bill Morrow, Joe Fortunate, Dean Corbell, and Max Stainbrook . . . In winning their first game since 1948, the Maroons scored more points than during the entire 1949 season.

By downing the highly rated Tennessee Vols, Mississippi State put its bid for a winning team on a firm footing. Prior to this game Tennessee was rated as the third ranking team in the nation, however, the superior defense of the Maroons was too much for the Vols who went on to sweep the remainder of their season undefeated and to win the Cotton Bowl on New Years Day. The defensive action was led by Max Stainbrook, who played havoc with the Tennessee passing attack allowing only one pass completion. Also outstanding on defense were Tait, Corbell, Pyron, Owens, Walker, Ashley, Ruscor, Rucker, and Bivona. The great ground gaining power was attributed to Tom Rushing, Bill Stewart, and Wally Beach . . . Coach Morton was honored by being chosen "Coach Of The Week" following this game, which was later voted the upset of the year in the Southeastern Conference. (Sugar Bowl Bound.)

After trailing for three quarters the Baylor Bears took to the air to defeat the Maroons 14-7. The game was played in Shreveport, Louisiana.

Bill Morrow, Wally Beech, and Bill Stewart led the offense, while "Shag" Pyron, "Art" Tait, and "Tex" Ashley were outstanding on defense.

This game was an even greater loss due to the fact that Rex Bullock suffered a broken leg and was out for the rest of the season. We'll still be SEC Champs!

The Georgia Bulldogs put on a hard fighting offense besides taking advantage of Maroon fumbles, to win their Homecoming Game 27-0.

The Maroons drove under the shadow of the Georgia goal several times on the strength of passes by Verterber and the running of Rushing and Polovina only to be halted by fumbles and pass interceptions. State put up a fine defense led by Tait, Pyron, Owens and Ruscoe.

. . . the big robbery"

This game was one of those strange ones. According to playing and statistics we won—but the score board didn't say so. The Maroon Men were plagued with fumbles; penalties and Referees. Again Max Stainbrook kept the opposition back with his fine punting which were each good for over forty yards. In the line Pete Walker and Sam Cavallaro were outstanding along with Tait and Pyron. Stainbrook shifted to end and scored the lone tally on a pass reception and then converted. The offense was sparked by Rushing, Beech, Branch, Dreyspring, Corbell and Blount.

. . . t'was a cold day"

The Maroons won another SEC victory by rolling the Auburn Tigers in the Scott Field mud. Although the visitors held the Maroons to a scoreless tie during the first half, when it was all over we had won again, and this time 27-0. Bill Stewart and Dean Corbell tore up the Auburn line and Norman Duplain turned in some of his famous long runs. When the going got rough in the mud, Gil Veterber filled the air with his passes.

Due to injuries of the older men much of the credit for this victory must be given to the Sophomores who filled in just fine.

. . . that second quarter"

At last we really had a bad day. We had heard that Parilli had a Magic Arm and we believe it now. The Kentucky Wildcats defeated the Maroons 48-21 but their record was marred. The 21 points scored by the Maroons was the largest score run up against Kentucky in two seasons. At the half, by virtue of recovered fumbles and interceptions, the Wildcats led 27-7 but the Maroons never gave up and roared back to score 14 more points in the second half. Rushing plunged over for one score, while he and Clark both scored on pass completions.

. . . the maroons shatter tigers bowl hopes"

The Maroons got back into the win column with a surprising upset over the L. S. U. Tigers to the tune of 13-7. The first half saw State lose two possible scores on a fumble and a pass interception. Also L. S. U. failed to score when Max Stainbrook pulled the runner down on the one yard line as the half time whistle blew. The score was tied 7-7 in the fourth quarter with State scoring in the waning minutes to go ahead and win.

This was undoubtedly Branch's outstanding game, while "Dog" Owens was the mainstay of the defense. Bill Stewart made the game's longest run of 50 yards.

Running the Rebels Ragged

. . . that sad day"

Ole Miss finally won a conference game but it had to be at our expense. John Dottley finished his stay at the "Country Club" by racking up over a hundred yards against the Maroons. The game was in the balance to the end. Wally Beech and Tom Rushing made several fine runs, Arthur Tait, Joe Fortunato, and Max Stainbrook put up a great defense which foiled many Rebel plays.

Paced by "Dead Eye" Hargett, All Southeastern second team, the Maroon Basketballers of 1950 played the last season in the old "barn." The new $700,000 gym is one of the finest in the South today.

Although winning only 6 of their 16 games, the Maroons defeated a highly favored Tulane five in the Southeastern Tournament; however, the Maroons were defeated 56-46 by Kentucky, the national champs, in the next game.

With a new gym and a steadily improving squad, the future looks bright for basketball at State.

State's track team participated in meets with Ole Miss, University of Alabama, LSU, Auburn, the Southern Relays, and the SEC tournament.

Upholding the tradition, they defeated Ole Miss, which allows Ole Miss only 2 victories in 16 years.

Although they failed to win their other meets, the Maroons fought all of the way. At Bama, Elmo Branch won both the frosh high jump and pole vault; his heights were the best for the day.

At L. S. U., Harrison and Cooley both tied for first.

For the first time in two years the State Baseball team failed to win the conference championship, losing to this year's champions, Alabama, for the Western Division championship.

Coach Tom Sawyer's netmen of 1950 stamped themselves in the eyes of Mississippi tennis fans as the best collegiate team ever turned out in the Magnolia State. They played and defeated each of the other college teams in the state in dual meets and then easily won the Mississippi Inter-collegiate Tournament held on the campus.

In conference play, the Maroons finished in the top half of the "league" for the first time, winning four meets and losing three. They trounced Ole Miss twice, broke even with L. S. U. and Auburn, but lost once to Alabama.

samurai

Mississippi State Chapter of Samurai is quite young, having been established in February, 1951. It is a sub-chapter of Samurai at L. S. U., these two chapters being the only ones in existence.

Samurai is a social organization whose purpose is to promote better relations between individuals of each fraternity, as well as inter-fraternity relations in general, through social activity.

Five men, juniors or seniors, from each fraternity are picked by Samurai to constitute its membership. Upon graduating, these men are replaced by others, while membership is extended to all "stray Greeks."

Omicron Delta Kappa, National Leadership Honor Society for men, was founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University, Virginia.

The three-fold purpose of ODK is: First, to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in college activities, and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines. Second, to bring together the most representative men in all phases of collegiate life and thus to create an organization which will help to mold the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate interest. Third, to bring together members of the faculty and student body of the institution on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

The National Honor Fraternity of Blue Key was organized by Major B. C. Riley at the University of Florida in 1924. The Fraternity grew out of a group of student leaders who were assembled at that campus for the purpose of organizing and coordinating the activities for the campus homecoming. This group of student leaders functioned so well that it was formally organized into what is now the Blue Key Fraternity. Blue Key was established at Mississippi State in April, 1928.

Juniors and Seniors who have proved themselves to be outstanding in leadership, character, scholarship, student activities, and service to the school are eligible for membership.

beta beta beta

Beta Beta Beta is a society for students of the biological sciences. It seeks to encourage scholarly attainment in this field of learning by reserving its membership for those who achieve superior academic records and who indicate special aptitude for the subject of biology. It desires to cultivate intellectual interest in the natural sciences and to promote a better appreciation for the value of biological study. It aims to advance the general objectives of education by making a worthy contribution to the curricular program of the life sciences. It emphasizes a threefold program; namely, stimulation of sound scholarship; dissemination of scientific knowledge; and promotion of biological research.

chi lambda rho

Chi Lambda Rho, local honorary business fraternity, is composed of Juniors and Seniors in the School of Business and Industry who have maintained an average of not less than two quality points per semester hour. The founders of the fraternity saw the need of an organization to recognize and honor high scholastic standing in the School of Business and Industry; thus, Chi Lambda Rho was organized at Mississippi State College in 1930. Women have been initiated into membership this year for the first time in the fraternity's history.

When George Williams, the founder of the Y. M. C. A. in London, England, in 1844, was asked for the secret of this great organization, he replied: "There is no secret. We simply saw a great need, began to pray about it and then did the thing next at hand." This spirit has characterized the Y. M. C. A. at Mississippi State College since 1882 when it was first organized.

The Y. M. C. A. building serves as a center and symbol of religious unity on the campus. It works in full cooperation with the Church Foundations promoting unified projects and at the same time has a life of its own expressed through the Cabinet committees, counseling, conferences, work projects, etc. The organization includes students and faculty on its program.

The Baptist Student Union is a co-ordinator of religious activities for all students of Baptist preference and their families and is a channel through which transcends artificial boundaries. Its purpose is to tie students on to the Church both in the local and the universal sense that a feeling of kinship might be developed toward each other and toward all Christians everywhere regardless of differences in race, creed, or color.

colonel's club

The primary purpose of the Colonel Club, an honorary service organization, is to serve as official representatives of the college by greeting, accompanying, and giving information to all visitors, as well as serving in any worthwhile activity beneficial to the welfare of the college.

Our basic aim is to better our reputation as "The Most Friendly Campus in the South."

We select one representative from each fraternity and sorority, and six independents, four boys and two girls, each semester. They must be of second semester freshman or first semester sophomore standing, bona fide students of Mississippi State College.

wesley foundation

"The purpose of the Wesley Foundation is to develop students in worship, intelligent churchmanship, wholesome friendship, and creative recreation. Our fellowship, with all Christians, is striving to become the saving difference between world community and world chaos."

ARTICLE I, CONSTITUTION OF THE WESLEY FOUNDATION:

As the Methodist Church at work on Mississippi State College campus, the Wesley Foundation ministers to the more than seven hundred Methodist students in many and varied ways. Through worship, recreation, trips to other campuses, the Wesley Foundation helps students to know each other and to know themselves.

The Wesley Foundation is a growing organization. It is open to all who wish to subscribe to its purposes and join its Fellowship.

the maroon band

Adding greatly to the color of Mississippi State's gridiron wars, the Maroon Band led the Maroon supporters with a splendid display of leadership.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Henry E. Wamsley, the Maroon Band added color to all of the home games during the past season and also accompanied the football team to Baton Rouge, Tuscaloosa, and Oxford.

One of the outstanding features of the band this year was its seven beautiful majorettes, B. B. Hartness, Dot Dubard, Jo Anda Osgood, Daisy Sutherland, Marcie Stewart, Pat Martin, and Betty Travis. Leading the band on the field for the fourth consecutive year was Bill Boyd.

Each year the Band gives an annual concert and also makes a concert tour of the state. It takes an active part in all of the school's activities, and adds much to the morale and spirit of the student body.

american farm economic association

The Student Section of the American Farm Economic Association is one of the youngest organizations on the campus. It was organized the spring semester of 1949 by combining the Agricultural Administration and the Agricultural Economic Clubs.

The American Farm Economic Association is a professional Association of agricultural economists and rural sociologists. Its student section extends membership to students majoring in Agricultural Administration, Agricultural Economics, and Rural Sociology. Graduate students, faculty members, and research personnel are accorded associate membership.

The Mississippi State Collegiate Chapter of the Future Farmers of America was established on July 1, 1934. The National order of the Future Farmers of America was founded in Virginia in 1928.

Membership is composed of students who are enrolled in the School of Agricultural Education and former active members who wish to further pursue their work in the organization.

Meetings are held bi-weekly and feature programs by specialists and students in various fields of Agriculture and Education.

This chapter is designed primarily to assist prospective teachers of vocational agriculture in becoming good advisors of F. F. A. chapters.

agricultural club

The Agricultural Club is composed primarily of students in the department of general agricultural and includes the men of the other various departments. Special emphasis is placed upon the Freshmen and Sophomores, who should become active in an organization so that they might be better trained to be leaders in their field after graduation. Therefore, the programs include men who have had practical experience, and have been successful in the world of keen competition.

The parents of these men can justly be proud of their sons, who seek knowledge beyond the required curriculum of the college. May their reward be worthy of their integrity.

block and bridle

The Block and Bridle, a club for Animal Husbandry majors or men interested in the field of Animal Husbandry, contributes to the training that every student needs, but which is not always supplied by the classroom meetings.

Its three objectives are:

To promote a higher scholastic standard among students of animal husbandry.

To promote animal husbandry, especially all phases of student animal husbandry work in colleges and universities.

To bring about a closer relationship between students, faculty, and others engaged in animal husbandry.

Major activities of the club are the Annual Fall Barbecue, the Livestock Showmanship Contest, the Annual Spring Banquet, and the Intra-mural Livestock Judging Contest.

agronomy club

The local branch of the American Society of Agronomists was officially installed at Mississippi State College on January 1, 1937. Up to that time it had functioned as a local club. The group has as its chief aim the furthering of education in agronomical fields, and to bring students majoring in Agronomy into closer contact with instructors.

american society of agricultural engineers

The Student Branch is established to provide the beginning of professional associations. Concurrently with technical training in the classroom, the Branch affords mental development through experience in preparing, presenting, and discussing papers and analyzing engineering problems. The Branch makes contacts with the profession by securing outside speakers, by visiting agencies and companies associated with the profession and through publications of the National Society.

american society of mechanical engineers

"The Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was founded in 1928 as an outgrowth of the old Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College Engineers Club, the members of the Club becoming affiliated with the various national engineering societies.

The Student Branch, at its bimonthly meetings, follows closely the objectives set forth by its parent organization in presenting prominent speakers, technical films, and discussions on relevant subjects.

In addition to local activities, members of the society attend nearby sectional and regional meetings of the professional branches of ASME and present technical papers on a competitive basis with student members of other southern engineering schools."

american institute of electrical engineers

In 1903 the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, realizing the need for acquainting electrical engineering students with the personnel and problems of the electrical industry made provisions for the establishment of student branches. The Mississippi State College Branch maintains the aims of the Institute by contributing to the technical and general development of electrical engineering students through its program of lectures, discussions, and field trips.

illuminating engineering society

The local chapter is the second oldest chartered student chapter in the United States. It was organized in October, 1948, for any students at State College with a direct or indirect interest in illumination—as a science. Programs for bi-monthly meetings and other special activities call for a wide range of capacity and cooperation in which all members take part. Regardless of your interest in lighting, the Society provides broad opportunities for personal development.

Last year the local chapter won the attendance trophy at the Southeastern Regional Conferences held at Atlanta, Georgia. This was in direct competition with other local professional chapters of eight southern states.

accounting club

The Accounting Club is a professional organization composed of students who are majoring in accounting and who have completed at least two semesters of accounting. Since its organization in 1946, the club has been active in bringing outstanding public and industrial accountants to the campus to give the accounting majors practical information in these two fields of accounting.

marketing club

The Mississippi State Marketing Club was organized for the purpose of fostering scientific study and research in the field of marketing through better understanding and appreciation of marketing problems. The club learns of new employment opportunities in the field of marketing through a series of field trips each year to various cities. By attending these field trips and hearing several informed speakers each year, the members are able to coordinate marketing theory with marketing problems of practical import.

The Barristers Club was organized at Mississippi State during the spring semester of 1948 under the direction of "Dean" Willie Evans and Augustine Magruder.

Qualifications of membership for admission into the club shall come within any one or more of the following categories:

A 1. Those duly classified as majors in prelaw in the division of public administration of the school of Mississippi State College.

2. Those giving satisfactory evidence of an intention to enroll in a duly accredited law school within the United States, or to pursue legal studies in any educational institution other than the United States which is a member of the United Nations Organization.

3. Those whose field of study is such as to indicate a need for familiarity with the general field of law in administrative or professional pursuits contemplated as a life's work.

B None but students regularly in attendance at Mississippi State shall be eligible to membership.

C Admission of a qualified member shall be by application or by initiation, and shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the members present at a regular meeting.

In Appreciation

It is with a full realization of the inadequacy of words that this Appreciation Page is written, but nevertheless, I would like to thank those persons who helped so much in the compilation and production of this, the 1951 REVEILLE.

First, I would like to jointly thank Mr. Bob Faerber of the Alabama Engraving Company and Mr. Johnny Long of the Bowen, Long & Young Company, Inc., the engraver and printer, respectively. They were an ever present source of information and encouragement.

Second, "thanks" to the faculty, administration, and the entire student body for their cooperation, consideration, and patience throughout the year. This includes the numerous organizations, fraternities, and sororities.

Third, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Mr. Ben Hilbun, Chairman of the Board of Publications, whose experience, good judgment, and willingness made available a wealth of aid on editorial problems.

Fourth, to Mr. Jim Pruitt and his staff, including Mrs. Pruitt and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Barbar, the photographers for the Annual, I would like to say "thanks so very much".

Too, I am grateful beyond my ability of expression, to the Staff, who, with willingness, cooperation, suggestions, and patient work, saw this 46th Volume completed by our combined efforts. Theirs was a hard job, without compensation, and to those of the Staff I shall ever be indebted.

Sincerely,

CHARLES H. (BILL) JOHNSON

Editor
